

What's in your Drink?

First Taste: Noticing that the bottle actually said Green Apple, it's really obvious what flavor it was. The first taste was a heavy shot of green apple, a little tingly, sour feeling on your tongue and in the back of your throat.

After Taste: Really disgusting, although green apple is really good, the after taste of this drink ruins it.

Description of drink: It was a really dark green, smelled like apple, tasted like apple, tingled in your mouth, and well altogether wasn't half bad. The after taste is what killed the drink in the end.
