

What's in your Drink?

First Taste: Good, clean tingle your mouth taste, but despite the tingle, went down really easy. Had a very close resemblance to mango, but lemon lime properties soon took over.

After Taste: It's a really sweet drink, and the after taste was very comparable to a package of Splenda sugar, although containing none. The after taste, as well as the first taste, left a slight tingle in the mouth.

Description of drink: A very dark, deep yellow. Along with the taste, the smell had a burn to it. The drink was a much anticipated choice on the taste list, but was beaten down by other choices. Overall, it was really good despite the slight burn.